Critical Journal of the Katherine Mansfield Society

Editors: Dr Kym Brindle and Dr Karen D'Souza

Edge Hill University

The editors of Tinakori: Critical Journal of the Katherine Mansfield Society are seeking to publish a special edition of the journal for 2023 as the centenary of the writer's death. We welcome proposals for essays that will celebrate Mansfield's life and contribution to literature as one of the most highly regarded short story writers of the twentieth century. We welcome all approaches to Mansfield's work to celebrate her centenary as a writer who continues to resonate with readers and invite critical attention in the twenty-first century. We would also be interested in articles that examine Mansfield's contribution to modernist practice and its legacy. Useful connections can be made between Mansfield's journals and her creative work together with the literary networks, debates and dialogues that locate Mansfield as a significant writer of modernist prose. Tinakori is committed to publishing innovative and rigorous research into one of the most significant women authors of the early twentieth century. It is an official online series recognised by the British Library with its own ISSN number: ISSN 2514-6106.

Please e-mail completed essays of 4,000 - 5,000 words (including endnotes) in MHRA format to brindlek@edgehill.ac.uk and dsouzak@edgehill.ac.uk by 31 August 2023 together with a brief biographical note.

All essays submitted will be double peer-reviewed prior to acceptance.
